

OceanConnect and Bunkerworld exchange bunker market information

OceanConnect, the global online marine fuels marketplace will supply Bunkerworld with price assessments from the OceanConnect transaction service. Bunkerworld, the leading information resource for the bunker market will provide news, analysis, and pricing information to OceanConnect, creating the only real-time pricing, analysis and transaction service.

Tom Reilly, OceanConnect President views the new information as a value-added service for the many buyers and suppliers who transact through OceanConnect. "Our home page will now include news stories updated throughout the day by a team of professional reporters. We are confident that adding Bunkerworld's content to the OceanConnect site will provide our customers with vital market information," Reilly said.

Mikal Boe, CEO of Bunkerworld, says, "This fits! OceanConnect is clearly the best bunker transaction platform, and we are the strongest information resource. By working together, we strengthen each other."
